Marcus M. Smart Dead—Mrs. Hazel Hutchins Moves Her House—Men Chop Wood for Methodist Church and Parsonage.

People of this place were saddened by the death of Marcus M. Smart, who passed away Tuesday afternoon after a short illness at the Fryeburg Tavern, where he and Mrs. Smart had gone for the winter. He was a widely known and highly respected man and will be greatly missed in the community. He leaves a widow, a daughter, Mrs. Nellie Paine of Lewiston and a brother, John Smart, of Arlington, Mass. Funeral services were held Thursday, at the home of Frank A. Hill at Fryeburg, attended by Rev. E. W. Wild, with Masonic services.

Elmer and Everett Baker are cutting their ice.

C. O. Kimball and wife of Green Hill were week end guests at C. L. Kimball's.

Recently a party of men chopped wood for the Methodist Church and parsonage.

David Bradley gave the wood and the ladies served a hot dinner in the forest.

EZRA F. BEAL'S JOURNAL

CHURCH ORGAN PAID FOR "MAINE LAW" IN A "PROSPEROUS CONDITION," BUT "RUM" WINS IN NORWAY

Edited by Don C. Selt

1853
Jan. 16—Sunday. Cold day, inclining to storm, but little snow with excellent sleighing. Stevens preached today. Leg-islature organized last week. Butman from Penobscot, President of the Sen-ate—Whig. Talbot, Speaker of the House. Crosby, Governor elected by the Legislature. Council, 5 Whigs & 4 Dem-ocrats. The Legislature strongly in fa-vor of the Maine law.

Jan. 23—Sunday. Snowing toward the night. There is a very thin crust of old snow in the roads. There has been no snow fall for several weeks and the weather has been moderate for the se-son several weeks. The winter so far has been of unusual mildness.

I am now about to start a shingle ma-chine under the name of Mr. Little and myself are a committee to let out the Island Pond Depot & expect to get it built for $5,500.

Jan. 30—Pleasant day & moderate, especial toward night. Mr. French, of Auburn preached an exchange with Mr. Stevens. Mr. Loring is to deliver a temperance lecture this evening at the Chapel. Richard Evans & G. L. Reed have taken the contract to build a new Pond Depot for $5,500. Engraved James Crockett to cut & haul to the mill all the pine trees on the mill Co.'s land for $20. The ladies of the Norway Society held a fair last Wednesday evening at the Denison Hall, which was well at-tended. The receipts for the ladies were enabled to pay all the organ & all their dues, leaving $81 in the Treas-ury. With 3 years' rates they have re-ceived $600 & clearing $440. Mrs. Beal went to Andover yesterday by the Cars, expecting to return next Wednesday.

Feb. 5—Sunday day today has been rainy since & including last Thursday & 4 days. The Cars run up to Island park last Friday the 4th, with 150 passengers. Took dinner & return'd to Portland, ar-riv'd at 8 P.M. & 8 P.M. Met at Island Pond 200 persons.

Feb. 12—Sunday. Very stormy today with snow. Mr. Stevens held meeting in the forenoon. John Smith preached the sermon on account of the storm. Last Wed-nesday there was a temperance convention at Augusta, very fully attended. I went down by way of Winthrop & came home by way of North Yarmouth. The Maine Law appears in a prosperous condition & the Legislature was inclined to furnish such amendments as are thought nec-essary to make it efficient. Vermont has accepted of the bill passed at the last session of their Legislature & sub-mitted to the People. They voted last Tuesday, the 9th inst.

Feb. 19—Sunday. No meeting at the Universalist meeting house today. Mr. Stevens preached at Bethel. Cold win-ter weather & good sleighing.

Feb. 26—Sunday & very pleasant. Good sleighing last week. Mr. Rolling was killed at the Danville Junction by being run over by the Androscoggin Engine.

Frank Hayes Hauled Hay—Edgar Mor-gan Gaining—School Closes With En-tertainment.

Henry Brooks, of Peru, recently vis-ited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alpheus Brooks before going to Standish, where he has work for the winter.

Frank Hayes with his brother, Elmer, has hauled hay from his farm on Hayes' Hill, to Bryant's Pond.

Wesley and Linwood Ring, motored to Sumner, Sunday, Dec. 27.

Albert Cash, of South Paris, has been visiting his son, Albert B. Cash.

Friends of Edgar Morgan, of Green-wood City, will be glad to know that he is gaining, though very slowly. He has been confined to his bed for a number of weeks.

School closed Dec. 18, for a week's vacation. Miss Haines gave the chil-dren a very enjoyable afternoon. Gifts were exchanged between pupils, and each received gifts and a pop-corn bag from the teacher, who was also generously re-munerated by the school. Several guests were present, to enjoy the following well prepared program:

Santa's Visit.....Norma Ring
Little Bob and Santa Claus.....Glenwood Libby
The Footpath to Peace.....William Libby
Christmas Cheer.....William Libby
Stems of Christmas.....Helen Libby
Exercise, Christmas.....1st and 2nd grades
Song, Christmas.....Errol Cash
A Christmas Surprise.....Ethel Libby
The Christmas Gift.....Ethel Libby

Miss Haines spent the vacation at her home in East Bethel. Hot Lunches are being served during the winter term.

Christmas in the Sunday School was observed on Christmas Eve, with a face and short program of music, recitations, and several clever little plays by the young people. Twenty-five candy bags were given to the school children and those younger. Other gifts from teachers to members of their classes, made a well filled tree. A fruit box containing as-sorted fruits and candy, also an apron, was given Mrs. Anna Brooks by her neighbors, as a token of their love.

The family Christmas tree was held in nearly all homes. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Dunham and son, spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Davis, of Fryburg, Me.

South Paris, was also a caller there. Mrs. McAllister and sons, of Bryant's Pond, were with Colby Ring and family, and Mrs. Lang, at Harrison, a few days.

Ring, visited his uncle, Herbert Ring, and family, at Bryant's Pond; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hayes and family, visited Mrs. Abbie Frank, and Mrs. Lola Foster, at Locke's Mills.

Estes Yates and family, of Woodstock, spent Sunday, Dec. 27, with the Hayes family.

Mr. and Mrs. Alpheus Brooks and fam-ily enjoyed their Christmas on the 24th, when their daughter, Mrs. Martha Noyes, with three of her school pupils came to spend the day with them. These children, Jennie Polunien, Eleanor Koller, and Toiva Heikinen, gave several clever songs and recitations, little Toiva, with her violin, being most entertaining. The beautiful were the table, and all from far and near relatives and friends. Candy, fruit and pop-corn, helped please, and the day was a happy one for all.

BATES—WEST PARIS

Trap Corner

Miss Olga McKee has returned to Boston after a visit with her mother, and sisters.

E. B. Davis went to Bryant's Pond, Saturday.

Karl Briggs spent the week end at home.

Several from this vicinity attended the E. O. P. installation evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davis have re-turned from New Jersey. Mr. Davis' job did not prove satisfactory.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Verrill and son were at Frank Verrill's, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davis were in Turner, Sunday.

Florence Pierce and family visited at Ellwood Pierce's, Sunday.

NORWAY VICINITY

ABOUT TOWN

I have received a letter from Henry O. Holden, who is wintering in Otisfield, about nicknames. I will consider my rags are ragged now, and this, I'm looking rough, my face is sealed, I'm like a scarecrow in the field, I'm shot to pieces more or less.

I once was handsome, young and tall, And had the speed of a cannon ball, My clothes were pressed, my hair was curled, I kept pace with the social world, But what's the use to dream and sigh, And think of days that have gone by, I'll buy a bar of Wonder-Whisk, And cure myself of rheu-ma-tiz.

And some day when I'm on the gain I'll take my tall hat and my cane, I'll visit old New York so gay, I'll see the lights along Broadway, And if the sports get fresh with me, I'll holler now and shout with glee, I'll sing, 'Ho, ho, I am no rube, I'm just a well-to-do gill-eat and dube.' When I start throwing out my chest, They'll be standing collar and fancy vest, But I'll surely be a swell again.

He's gay and smooth as new-born shoats, He must have had and spends it, too, But I'll be shy of the city boys, Who tries to steal my coin away, I'll take my hat and my cane, I'll go away and let me be.

I'll say so on and sell your pills, I'm no slow product from the farm, I play the pumpkins in the barn, I sing and pick the old barn, I called a poet, if you please, I sometimes call it a kangaroo, He'll say, 'Forgive me if you can, I was mistaken in the man, I am like you, but never met, You may be shot, but you're living yet.' Copyright, 1925.

March 7—The Run party succeeded & elected A. P. Smith, John Millett & David Frost, selectmen. E. C. Shackley was elected treasurer & Sylvanus Cobb, Jr., school committee. Temperance was their nomination in harmony.

March 13—Sunday, pleasant day. I was at Portland having returned from a tour to Boston, Worcester, Pitts-burgh, & in pursuit of a good plan for an En-gine House. Howard Street all day.

March 20—Very pleasant day, a large quantity of snow on the ground & the weather cold. Last week has been most-ly very cold weather. On Friday—day before yesterday—while on Street, I was passing Wild River Bridge in Gil-ead, a car wheel broke, throwing one of the cars from the track—there being 9 or 10 in all of them loaded with spars & masts. The driver broke down, & the masts struck the truss of the bridge and threw down one entire reach, tumbling into the river 5 cars and their loads. Yesterday 10 men and 6 yoke of oxen started to go up to the bridge, & I started with them from Paris about 9 o'clock.

P. M. We arriv'd at Bethel at 7 o'clock and there we met the down train, they through the snow drifts to get to Strat-ford Hollow, then backed out to get to Bethel. I came back to Paris with them.

The storm on Friday last was rain at Norway and Portland and snow at Beth-el and above, with a strong wind which continued all day yesterday and last night, blocking up the Rail Road severe-ly. Mr. Orser went to Island Pond last Thursday and has not been heard from since; probably he is block'd up with snow in the Hegan woods.

March 27—I spent the day, Sunday, at Island Pond with O. P. Chandler & Mrs. Little, having went up to Island today looking for a site for a public house.

Note: David Frost, who was one of the winners of the "Rum" party was "King David" of Frost's Hill. He did not drink, but believed in Liberty. Syl-vanus Cobb, Jr., was the celebrated nov-elist, he believed in Temperance—for others—as the diary will reveal later on.—D. C. S.

SOUTH ALBANY

Cutting and Hauling Wood—Ingalls Mc-Allister Buys Horse at Norway.

John McAllister and son, Winfield Mc-Allister, have been hauling wood with their horse teams from their lot here, to their home at North Waterford.

Merritt Savin and Ernest Grover have been cutting wood on Mr. Savin's lot on the mountain. They cut the trees the whole length and Harmon Holt hauled them down with his new horse. She is a fine worker.

Bert Brown and Henry Fox went to Sweden, the first of the week, after hay.

SHOT, BUT LIVING YET

By Frederick Marshall Davis

I sometimes think I'm growing old, My whole frame aches with the cold, My lungs are full of phlegm and cough, My voice sounds like a hungry cat, My bones squeak like a garden gate, The flies they light upon my nose, My rags are ragged now, and this, I'm looking rough, my face is sealed, I'm like a scarecrow in the field, I'm shot to pieces more or less.

Yesterday 10 men and 6 yoke of oxen started to go up to the bridge, & I started with them from Paris about 9 o'clock.

P. M. We arriv'd at Bethel at 7 o'clock and there we met the down train, they through the snow drifts to get to Strat-ford Hollow, then backed out to get to Bethel. I came back to Paris with them.

The storm on Friday last was rain at Norway and Portland and snow at Beth-el and above, with a strong wind which continued all day yesterday and last night, blocking up the Rail Road severe-ly. Mr. Orser went to Island Pond last Thursday and has not been heard from since; probably he is block'd up with snow in the Hegan woods.

March 27—I spent the day, Sunday, at Island Pond with O. P. Chandler & Mrs. Little, having went up to Island today looking for a site for a public house.

Note: David Frost, who was one of the winners of the "Rum" party was "King David" of Frost's Hill. He did not drink, but believed in Liberty. Syl-vanus Cobb, Jr., was the celebrated nov-elist, he believed in Temperance—for others—as the diary will reveal later on.—D. C. S.

March 7—The Run party succeeded & elected A. P. Smith, John Millett & David Frost, selectmen. E. C. Shackley was elected treasurer & Sylvanus Cobb, Jr., school committee. Temperance was their nomination in harmony.

March 13—Sunday, pleasant day. I was at Portland having returned from a tour to Boston, Worcester, Pitts-burgh, & in pursuit of a good plan for an En-gine House. Howard Street all day.

March 20—Very pleasant day, a large quantity of snow on the ground & the weather cold. Last week has been most-ly very cold weather. On Friday—day before yesterday—while on Street, I was passing Wild River Bridge in Gil-ead, a car wheel broke, throwing one of the cars from the track—there being 9 or 10 in all of them loaded with spars & masts. The driver broke down, & the masts struck the truss of the bridge and threw down one entire reach, tumbling into the river 5 cars and their loads. MOUNTAIN NATURE
SERMONSAMID MISTS, CLOUDS, TANGLEY
SWAMPS, AND THEORIES—NO
RIGHTS RESERVED OR RULE
OBEYED—WRITTEN BY HIMSELF

The world has lost morally in the same proportion as it has progressed scientifically, mechanically, physically, and materially. Wars will continue and come legs of the League of Nations, International Court or the dead Wilson, Harding or Cabot Lodge. Wars will continue and come about as often. Listen to the following:

It is nothing but a dog fight. We remember years ago of the prayer meetings—and a dog fight broke out in the street—and the noise increased. The congregation getting pretty well excited, and let up—more growling—woofing!—woof!—stir him Tige, some, some outside heaven yelled out—and the deacons began to get up on one knee—then the other knee got started up—and the deacons started for the exit—jam the women folks again the wall, and squall, out went the congregation.

Right! Right!—The spirit of the fight took possession of the whole crowd, and religion took a back seat, away back along—and the fight increased—and the dogs were trampled right out of the ring and slunk home, ashamed of the human tribe. Everybody got at it—divided neighborhoods—divided families—children heeled other children, and the fight went on—and the tomatoes took it up.

Hell let loose!—That was only just a little country community expression of the human animal in small areas. Then the whole civilized world pulled off a fight—big as on record—and not yet over. There is a hell—and the spirit of the fight, as it were, until somebody starts another. Talk about peace—well—there is a good subject to lecture on, and get money to live on. But I can tell you there will be fights on this earth just as long as there is or are two human beings here. Even families fight—men fight with wife—wife fight with husband—neighbors fight, schools, towns and counties do the same. States, nations, worlds fight and will to the end, which is not yet.

You won't find it with people—'tis not there, and never will be. The fight for it lies in a different spirit, of worlds far removed from the human element. Untouched by greed and ignorance. No faint there. No wars. No rich people—no poor people. No slaves. No envy. The crystalline snows of winter remain pure in white, and pure in crystal—no grime of towns ever enter those areas. Natural sounds occur there, but no voices are heard. Flowers, and the spirit of flowers are there. Seasons cover great areas. The white season of snows.

The whirling snow about the mountain summits, and the winters I have traveled there just to see that expression.

I was there at the first falling of the snow, and there through the winters, and there at the first spring morning of things. When the sun would reach a certain point the light would give me the hint of what was about to occur, then I would start for the great range so as to witness the things I admired. The first letting go of winter, that change where the long cold winter began to soften. The coming of the spring light, and it first comes in the heavens, in the sky. You see it along in the last part of February. Tell of these things instinctively.

Something that is given to one if he will live it. All of the animals, the vegetable and the mineral kingdom, the birds, etc. All know these things for they live their lives in correspondence with the Creator. God is not under any roof. He is not shingled in.

The greatest robbers: I have seen a boy get right down on de floor and lick up the cat's milk from the dish given from the cat. Man raises animals, hens, etc., on the farm, they are all ate up. He cuts off the woods before the time is ready. About all the thing on this earth that does not suffer by man is the ice crop. You cannot damage the ice crop. And after all, nothing that man does interferes with anything of true importance.

You cannot accept anything anybody tells you. The guide boards will lie to you. The mists will give you distances, and you will throw rocks at the guide boards. On clear days in the mountains the guide boards lie again. Traveling into the blue distance. And a good honest tax-paying man, one that has been tamed by generations of submitting to making a good man, one. One that will take castor oil and smile, etc. This man will tell you a lie about the distances. Distances vary all the time by the conditions of the weather, and by your own makeup, your own conditions. It is a longer distance to your wood pile than it is away up river where you commence to fish—and following a deer track all day, there is no distance to that. And to walk 4 miles out of your clearing to the Cross Hall to pay your poll tax of $4 is an awful way.

Onions, now are about all the pure things we have with their natural strength and unaltered. The water has run under the dam—dam it! Take this matter up—up on a dust-pan and carry it out—and dump it. Man have it in his make-up tomorrow we have a perfect world. The old philosophers long ago back along and along back in the early ages voiced this same stuff. Hooted from pulpits, sung by the poets, promised by the politicians, mothers told it to their children—woods—the rocks—the mountains—the waters—the skies—and the things thereof kept still—they knew—they know.

The whole world's that light shall not one truth suffice Andrew recently called on Don Holmes.
